AH SIN

"Rises to Explain, With a Smile that is Child-Like and Bland"

WHAT HE KNOWS ABOUT THE CLOTHING BUSINESS,
AFTER ONE YEAR'S EXPERIENCE, MORE OR LESS.

HE LOOKS AROUND for a Place where he thinks Prices are high, and then "Settles" AND IT MUST BE CONFESSED THAT he has "settled" considerably since he struck this locality.

HIS "SYSTEM" IN FIVE CHAPTERS, WITH NOTES.

"We do not want for capital." (How kind if he would lend us a quarter till we sell our dog.)

"We often take the entire production of two or three mills at once." (Customers who have visited his store say that this must mean "Gin Mill," but we insinuate nothing of the kind.)

"We manufacture all our own clothing," (or "Buy it where we can get it cheapest," vide former Ad.)

"We make such immense quantities at a time that we cannot dispose of it at wholesale." (And then Ah Sin "takes a hand" to sell it off on the retail trade.)

A Card from the Sleeve of Ah Sin.

"We add 10 per cent. to the manufacturing prices." (Latest Advertisement.)
"We propose to sell without any profit from now till March 1st, 1876." (First proclamation.)
"We don't want for capital." (Latest.) "We want money, and that is the whole story." (First.)

A Regular "Break-Down" in the English Language
LINDLAY MURRAY PUT TO ROUT.
WE WILL GIVE ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS

AT HOME AGAIN.
FRANKLIN HOUSE,
BANGOR, ME.

The undersigned, after a vacation of nearly two years, finds himself once more at his old post of duty in the FRANKLIN HOUSE, which he established more than thirty years ago, and which has grown up under his administration as Landlord, to its present fair proportions and high reputation. Thoroughly refreshed and invigorated, and with more zeal than ever in the discharge of the duties of a landlord, he assumes the direction of this favorite business House which is now one of the best appointed Hotels in Maine.

The location of the Franklin House is exceedingly pleasant and healthy. It is abundantly supplied with all modern conveniences and comforts. It is close to the Post Office, and convenient to the business streets. MR. QUINBY, who has so long been connected with the establishment, will continue to fill the position of Chief Clerk.

My thousands of old friends whom I have known and entertained for the last thirty five years, are cordially invited to visit the FRANKLIN HOUSE, and judge whether the grasp of the landlord's hand is not as warm and cordial as it was before the frosts of many winters had begun to touch his locks. CHAS. MASON, Com'r of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE, Late Com'r of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

THE CENTENNIAL.
MAINE'S EDUCATIONAL REPRESENTATION.

We are glad to know that measures have already been taken to have a fair exhibition from Maine at the Centennial Exposition in the Department of Education and Science. Other States are rapidly moving in this direction, and we are pleased to see from a circular issued by Supt. Johnson, that a definite plan of work has been laid out for school officers and educators in our State. This plan, we understand, meets the favorable views of the State Centennial Board.

According to the classification adopted by the Centennial Commissioners, the principal exhibits are to be drawn from the following specifications:

Public Instruction. Infant schools and kindergarten arrangements, furniture, appliances and modes of training. Public schools, graded schools, normal schools, buildings and grounds, equipments, courses of study, methods of instruction, text books, apparatus, including maps, charts, globes, etc., pupils' work, including drawing and penmanship; provisions for physical training.

Higher Education. Academies and seminaries, colleges and universities. Buildings and grounds, libraries, museums of zoology, botany, mineralogy, art, and archeology; apparatus for illustration and research, mathematical, physical, chemical, and astronomical courses of study, text books, catalogues, libraries, and gymnasiums, professional schools, etc.

The ground to be covered by this exhibit may be summarized briefly, as follows:

1st—Historical
2d—Results.
3d—Pictorial and objective representations.

Historical.—Brief historical statement of rise and condition of public school system, by State Superintendent. Some of the several cities and towns exhibiting, by city superintendent or school officers. Some of seminaries, colleges, etc., by the Principals and Presidents.

Results—Schoolers' work, such as drawings, samples of penmanship, examination papers, compositions, and all kinds of graphic representations. Courses of study, methods of instruction, text books, etc., plans for warming, lighting and ventilating school-rooms, hygienic regulations, etc., all to be exhibited in cabinets as described below. The foregoing to furnish by school officers and faculties.

Pictorial and objective—Pictures or photographs, and plans of school buildings, public and private, with brief descriptions. Photographs of schools in session, of teachers and educators, with brief biographical notes, in portfolios or albums. Photographs of higher seminaries and colleges, of presidents, professors, founders and others, with biographical data as above. The double album is suggested for the foregoing purpose, with likeness in one compartment and sketch in adjoining space. Prize and miscellaneous drawings, forms, models, busts, kindergarten gifts, school apparatus, etc. Educational map of Maine, which will be a map of the State surrounded by two broad margins, the outer for the representation of the Public Schools, and the inner for academies, seminaries, colleges, etc., pictorial illustrations of towns and institutions contributing to the exposition being used with line references to locations on geographical map. Under each illustration references will be made to cabinets, albums and portfolios, numbered to correspond with illustration.

No space has yet been allotted by the commissioners in which to make the foregoing exhibit. We only know that sufficient room will be allowed in the main building. Probably the space will be in the form of a library alcove, say ten by twelve feet, utilizing the rear end, two sides and floor space. The Educational map, State reports, documents, etc., may thus be conspicuously placed on the rear wall, while the cabinets will occupy the side space, and school furniture, large portfolios, maps, apparatus, models, etc., will be exhibited in the central floor area. The casual visitor at the Exposition will thus at a glance get a general idea of Maine educationally, while the interested educator or student may pursue his researches by investigating State, municipal, or institutional records and exhibits in detail by the convenient references on the map.

The map will be prepared at the State Educational Department. The cabinets will be filled by the several towns and institutions exhibiting. These cabinets for the present will be provided by the State, and sent to school officers ordering. They will be made of black-walnut, two feet wide, three feet high, and one foot deep, glass fronts and plain finish. Being uniform in size they can be conveniently arranged. Parties can use more than one, and thus perfect their exhibit. The cabinet number will correspond with the town or institution number on the map. It is desired that these cabinets, some of them at least, be filled up as early as February first, and forwarded to Augusta for exhibition in the State House. We shall thus show our legislators what we propose to do and how we propose to do it. We shall have the benefit of their criticism and suggestions, and shall, we hope, deserve and secure their financial aid. We hope to see this education exhibit a complete success, and for further particulars refer our readers to the circular which may be obtained by applying to the State Department of Education.

A Widely Applicable Remedy.

Few remedies are applicable to such a wide range of disorders as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and this not because it has special properties adapted to the cure of each—such a pretension would be manifestly absurd—but on account of its wonderfully improving effect upon the general tone of the system, and its alterative action upon the organs of nutrition, secretion and discharge. Besides its well known properties as a remedy for intermittent and remittent fevers, dyspepsia, constipation, torpidity of the liver, general debility, urinary and uterine difficulties, it invariably proves to be highly serviceable in overcoming anaemia, hypochondria, rheumatism, insomnia, and many other disorders and disabilities originating in poverty or impurity of the blood, nervous weakness or over-excitement, or an imperfect performance of the physical functions.

MAYOR LAUGHTON GIVES A LEGAL OPINION

We were aware that Mayor Laughton had been very busily engaged for several days in overhauling the official records and otherwise evidently preparing for a deliverance in print, and we were expecting to accommodate him in our columns, which had thus far contained all the information that has been given the public on a matter of general interest. But since [illegible] has chosen another channel of communication and has devoted a large portion of his letter to the raising of questions of veracity with a number of very respectable gentlemen upon points not material to the main question as to his compliance with the terms of an Order upon which he has recently paid over to Father McSweeney $3,000 from the City Treasury, we do not feel called upon to copy the document entire from another paper. Still to avoid the possibility of any charge of unfairness in our interpretation, we have clipped and give in another column the full text of the letter. [illegible] only one or two points in which [illegible] special pertinence, and to those we will briefly refer.

As to the accuracy of our sketch of the order of proceedings in the Board of Aldermen, we have the assurance of several gentlemen who participated therein, and the Mayor will hardly expect us to discredit them [illegible] individual contradiction. [illegible] of veracity is raised with quite a number of persons [illegible] the Mayor's assertion that the City Solicitor assured him that there was "no objection" to signing the Order being followed by the Mayor's admission that Mr. Vose declined giving him any such advice. In fact the Solicitor had drawn up the form of conveyance which he published as the [illegible] upon which the money should be granted, had submitted it to the Mayor [illegible] the Cemetery [illegible] and to Alderman [illegible] as what he deemed requisite, and both the Solicitor and Mr. [illegible] [illegible] dealing with the [illegible] contemplated [illegible] specified in the Order [illegible] question of veracity has [illegible] not our province to [illegible].

It also [illegible] personal expressions [illegible] which he attributes to various gentlemen [illegible] involved [illegible] and this is especially [illegible] Mayor seeks to justify [illegible] by stating what [illegible] Alderman Egery said to Mr. Wilson. The Mayor [illegible] the original Order [illegible] appropriation [illegible] personal [illegible] official action of the Board of Aldermen [illegible] Bishop Healy [illegible] City Council [illegible] story to Mr. Vose should be presented [illegible] the City [illegible] approved of the Bishop's letter [illegible] Mr. Vose [illegible] letter [illegible] satisfactory [illegible] warrant for [illegible] the additional $1,000 [illegible] the Board of Aldermen [illegible] by the Mayor's casting vote [illegible] Common Council [illegible] endorsing the [illegible] of the [illegible] board. It [illegible] the Mayor was [illegible] guided by [illegible] City Council [illegible].

But [illegible] the matter [illegible] Magistrate would [illegible] to reach a [illegible] decision [illegible] as he is always [illegible] to the Mayor [illegible] letter [illegible] quoted [illegible] verbatim as follows:

Mr. Wheelwright asked "Is any one so simple minded as to believe that the letter of the Bishop gives a legal right?" [illegible] Of course [illegible] right [illegible] $3,000 we give [illegible] a right to deposit bodies in the tomb [illegible] plain that there is [illegible]

That [illegible] Mayor [illegible] Dred Scott decision [illegible] it gives [illegible] Bangor [illegible] respect. The Order [illegible] $3,000 [illegible] paid over [illegible] consideration [illegible] City might [illegible] the Bishop of Portland for damages. The Mayor certainly seems to [illegible] a novel [illegible] of protecting the rights of the City.

In conclusion we will remark that Mayor Laughton will hardly succeed in representing himself as a martyr in this case or in persuading anybody that he has been [illegible] assailed. Our treatment of the subject hitherto has been confined to the simplest statement of facts as vouched for by responsible citizens, and the only "assault" upon the Mayor has been the publication of his official acts in paying out a large sum of money upon what he admits to be very informal and different security, and in giving his casting vote in favor of an additional $1,000 to go in the same way. The only allusions to political opposition or to his "loose and general" notions of Christianity have found place in his own letter, which we have copied from the columns of an opposition journal in pursuance of our purpose to afford our citizens full information upon a subject in which they have a direct and pecuniary interest. If it shall prove that the publications of which he complains have been less severe upon himself than the document printed over his own signature, the personal responsibility can hardly rest upon those who called attention to what seems an unwarranted proceeding in the conduct of our city affairs.

An editorial in the Washington Republican severely criticises Mr. Henderson's attack on President Grant, which was, inspired, it says, by the refusal to grant his application for a foreign mission. It also asserts that Mr. Henderson came to Washington some time since and by personal appeals arrested legal proceedings against a relative who had defrauded the Internal Revenue.

How delighted Pillsbury must be to learn from the N. Y. Tribune that the only man who seems likely to profit by Mr. John Y. Foster's letter is the man who never received it, Mr. Ex-Speaker Blaine.

There are very noticeable elements of disorganization among the Democrats in the House. The war Democrats find it quite difficult to harmonize with the Confederates.

THE HOUSE LEADERSHIP

[From the Brooklyn Union.]

The position to be occupied by ex-Speaker Blaine in the present session of Congress can scarcely be exaggerated in its importance. Confessedly the leader of a minority that in ability is made up of picked and trained men, and their leader one of the shrewdest and most capable political managers, that he for years stood upon the floor of the House, unassailable in his record, filled with all the history that will have to do with present topics, a ready debater with physical power that carry him through intense labors unscathed, Mr. Blaine has a formidable place before the country to-day and gave a good earnest of its possibilities when the other day he turned the Democratic majority into a rabble, and [illegible] first contest into their com[illegible] House there is no rival [illegible] his party [illegible] prestige of success. He will make the Republican minority a solid phalanx which on more than one [illegible] occasion will smite through the schemes of the Democracy, will [illegible] itself [illegible] the reform the people demand. It will be for such men as Mr. Blaine to demonstrate as they will demonstrate that the Republican principles [illegible] great [illegible] of the Republican party are right, have never departed from devotion to the interests of the people, and will part with [illegible] that has brought [illegible] above.

In this reference we mean something more than the [illegible] of an individual. We regard the [illegible] of value in [illegible] Mr. Blaine to be worthy [illegible] for the great place which he [illegible] him. He has already [illegible] himself prominently before the country with the [illegible] upon the people. He has too much experience [illegible] the affairs at the Capital to allow [illegible] into petty schemes and the [illegible] embarrass [illegible] and measure of mere expediency. He can [illegible] that keeps its perfect poise [illegible]

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune in writing concerning the organization of the House previous to the election of Speaker said:

Mr. Blaine has been restored to the ranks [illegible] concerned by the revolution [illegible] but when he takes his seat among the Republican members on Monday [illegible] universal[illegible] recognized leader of his party. He is absolutely without a rival. For parliamentary knowledge [illegible] political [illegible] and power in debate [illegible] committee [illegible] general recognition among his party [illegible] superior [illegible] to lead. This recognition [illegible] ex-Speaker [illegible] without seeking it. [illegible] It is evident that the situation [illegible] most [illegible] laurels from the [illegible] difficulty Mr. Blaine is [illegible] resources bold and [illegible] a master of parliamentary strategy, ready in debate and strong in argument and carrying with him the prestige of six years in the chair. He will [illegible] no antagonist capable of crossing swords with him [illegible] will often confound the [illegible] Democratic majority.

STRIKING AT THE PENSION LAWS

[illegible] urged [illegible] restoration of the Democratic party to power [illegible] pension laws [illegible] Democratic press have sought to evade the subject with ridicule [illegible] Senator Morton [illegible] proposed [illegible] the Southern Democrats [illegible] Confederacy should [illegible] pension provided by the Government [illegible] received [illegible] the bloody shirt [illegible] misrepresentation [illegible] of his opinion [illegible] How [illegible] the record now?

The Congress [illegible] Democratic majority [illegible] in session [illegible] and among the first of the propositions introduced is this [illegible] the report of the proceedings of Monday last.

Mr. Merrimon of North Carolina (Dem.) introduced a bill to repeal section [illegible] Revised Statutes which forbids the payment of certain pensions. Referred to the Committee on Pensions.

The people will naturally wonder [illegible] attracted the attention of the Democratic Senator from North Carolina and impressed him with a sense of the urgent necessity for its repeal. Turning to the Revised Statutes for an explanation we find on page [illegible] opposite the marginal note "[illegible] Disloyalty," the section which he would expunge from the public laws as follows:

Section [illegible] NO MONEY ON ACCOUNT OF PENSION SHALL BE PAID TO ANY PERSON, OR TO THE WIDOW, CHILDREN OR HEIRS OF ANY DECEASED PERSON, WHO IN ANY MANNER VOLUNTARILY ENGAGED IN OR AIDED OR ABETTED THE REBELLION AGAINST THE AUTHORITY OF THE UNITED STATES.

That is what Mr. Merrimon wishes to repeal. And that is the statutory prohibition which stands between the United States Treasury and a demand for pensions for the [illegible] representatives of the men who fought to destroy the Union. Are the people of this country prepared to repeal that provision, and if not what do they think of this early confirmation of Senator Morton's prophecy? If the public do not recognize the fact that the Southern Democracy "mean business," they cannot much longer remain in doubt.

THE EXAMINATIONS.

The following record of the vote of the Superintending School Committee concerning the examination of teachers as furnished us by the Committee and published in our issue of Thursday, July 22, last, shows that no discrimination was there made, and sets forth the whole matter very clearly.

EXAMINATION OF TEACHERS. The Superintending School Committee in view of the changes to be made, consequent upon the doing away with the Select School and the opening of the new school house, have decided to give the teachers of the present Select and Grammar schools and all others who desire it an opportunity to compete by examination for positions in the reorganized Grammar schools of the city. Candidates will be examined in the following studies: Arithmetic, Grammar, Geography, the first 51 pages of Swinton's Word Analysis, Modern History, Physiology, Reading and Spelling, Criticism of Construction of English sentences. Candidates will be required also to write an essay of not less than 500 words, on one of the following subjects to be announced at the time of examination: "The Moral Relation of the Teacher to the Pupil," "The Educational Relation of the Teacher to the Pupil," "The Social Relation of the Teacher to the Pupil," "The Disciplinary Relation of the Teacher to the Pupil." These essays are to be written at the place of examination. In the decision upon the applications thus made regard will be had not only to the excellence of the examinations, but also to the past records of the applicants for efficiency in teaching and in government. The examination will take place some time in December.

THE PRESIDENT'S ACTION

[From the New York Times.]

One of Mr. Tilden's obsequious papers says that ever since the report of Henderson's speech reached the President in the newspapers, he has shown unusual feeling on the subject. We cannot imagine that anybody would have thought better of the President if he had not. It is no part of the President's duty to submit quietly to unwarrantable imputation on his character. If Henderson's insinuations had not been resented there is not a Democratic paper in the whole country which would not by this time have been declaring that the President's silence was an admission of guilt. There are numbers of writers always ready to insinuate that the President is a corrupt man but none have yet ventured to bring a direct charge against him. In political matters we have often differed with General Grant, but we believe him to be a thoroughly upright and honest man and it does not reflect any credit upon the country to have Democratic papers trying to spread abroad the opposite impression. This kind of attack upon the President is pretty sure to cause a strong reaction in his favor as we have once or twice already warned the Democrats and their allies [illegible] determined to render [illegible] as they can.

[From the Portland Advertiser.]

Mr. Henderson was speaking in the defence of [illegible] against Avery. The parties to that trial were the United States on the one hand and a defaulting petty servant on the other. Mr. Henderson's remarks about the President and General Babcock and about Commissioner Douglass were clearly irrelevant and impertinent to the issue. He was not employed to deliver his opinion about them but to show the logical bearing and force of the testimony against Avery. It was [illegible] impertinent [illegible] a gross piece of injustice [illegible] to assail before a court third parties who [illegible] not represented and could have no [illegible] their own defence.

VIRGINIA

Nomination of U. S. Senator

RICHMOND, Dec. 15. John W. Johnston was nominated for United States Senator on the 47th ballot.

FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS—First Session.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec 15.

Mr Anthony submitted a joint resolution authorizing Rear Admiral John J Almy to accept a decoration from the King of the Hawaiian Islands. Referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

Mr. Sargent introduced a bill authorizing the construction of a Post Office in San Francisco. Referred

Mr. Morton submitted a preamble and resolution declaring it had been alleged that fraud and corruption prevailed in Mississippi during the late election that the State's popular majority of 25,000 was overcome and a fraudulent majority of 25,000 returned, and providing for the appointment of a committee of five Senators to visit such State and inquire into the circumstances attending the election. Laid over at the request of Mr. Bayard

Mr Stevenson of Ky., submitted a resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury to transmit to the Senate copies of all telegrams letters and other information in his possession relating to the alleged violations of the Internal Revenue laws at St. Louis, Chicago and Milwaukee

A debate followed and Mr. Sherman opposed the resolution and said to make this information public might defeat the ends of justice and allow the escape of some of the [illegible]

Mr Stevenson had every confidence in the Secretary of the Treasury, but thought they should have the information. As the Senator from Ohio, Mr Sherman, objected he would not object to having it referred to the Committee on Finance

Mr Morton said he would vote for the resolution, leaving it discretionary with the Secretary to withhold such information as might [illegible] the course of justice

Mr Stevenson said he had no desire to embarrass the Secretary and therefore withdrew the resolution. Mr Cooper gave notice that on Tuesday next he would ask the Senate to consider the resolutions in commemoration of the life and services of his late colleague Andrew Johnson

Mr Morton of Ind submitted the following concurrent resolution

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives concurring, that the people of the United States constitute a nation and are one people in the sense of national unity

Resolved, That the Government of the United States is not a compact between States and their municipal and corporate characters but was formed by the people of the United States in their primary capacity; that the rights of the States are defined and guaranteed by that Constitution and not by any outside theory of State sovereignty and that the rights of States cannot be enlarged or diminished except by an amendment to the Constitution.

Resolved, That the rights of States have the same sanction and security in the Constitution as the rights and power of the National Government and that local, domestic government by the States within the limits of the Constitution is an essential of our free Republican system.

Resolved, That the doctrine that a State has the right to secede from the Union is inconsistent with the idea of nationality and is in conflict with the spirit and the structure of the Constitution and should be regarded as having been forever extinguished by the suppression of the rebellion

Mr Morton asked to have the resolutions printed and laid on the table and it was so ordered. He gave notice that at some future time he would call them up for action

The Senate at 12 o'clock went into executive session and at 2.15 adjourned.

House.

The Speaker stated that inasmuch as the committees were not appointed he would proceed with the call of States for bills and resolutions

Mr Hale of Maine offered the following resolution and moved the previous question on its adoption

Whereas, the country is suffering under the evils of an irredeemable currency which causes uncertainty in business to stimulate speculation to the prejudice of legitimate business and labor, and whereas both political parties in the United States stand committed against repudiation and in favor of a speedy return to specie payment and whereas Congress established a like policy in the act of March 18 1869, which was followed by the act of January 14, 1875, providing for the return of specie payment on the 1st day of January, 1879, therefore

Resolved, That in the judgment of this House prompt legislative measures should be taken to render said act of January 14, 1875 effective by placing in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury whatever power may be necessary to that end

Mr James of Ky. moved to lay the resolution on the table.

Mr Hale—On that motion I call for the yeas and nays

Mr Wood of N. Y.—I ask the chair if this resolution is not of that peculiar character that it should be necessarily considered by a committee (Laughter on the Republican side)

The Speaker—The chair does not regard that as a proper parliamentary inquiry.

Mr Hale—In other words the gentleman from New York wish to put the question off?

Mr Wood—I do not want to put it off. I am ready to meet it quite as fairly as the gentleman from Maine who offers a mere empty vague declaration (Laughter on the Republican side). I think the question to be considered by the appropriate committee and to let that committee report proper legislation

Mr Hale—I have asked for the yeas and nays on the motion of the gentleman from Kentucky

Mr Jones—I withdraw the motion (Triumphant laughter on the Republican side) I do this under the advice of friends (Laughter) So far as I am personally concerned the gentlemen know what my opinion is and that I am ready to meet the question

Mr Hale demanded the yeas and nays on the previous question. The House refused to second the previous question Yeas, 75, nays 116. Several Republicans voted no. Among them was Kelley of Pa., who was the first man to pass between the tellers of that side. The resolution was then referred to the Committee on Banking

Several bills and resolutions were introduced and referred including the following Fixing the postage on mailable matter of the third class at one cent on every two ounces or fraction thereof. By Mr. Starkweather to amend the law relating to postage on mailable matter of the 3d class, providing that from the 1st of January, 1876 postage on pamphlets, transient newspapers, periodicals magazines handbills, posters, unsealed circulars, proof sheets, and corrected proof sheets shall be one cent for every two ounces or fraction thereof and that postage on all other mailable matter shall remain as now provided by law. He moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill.

After some discussion pro and con, Mr Starkweather moved the previous question on the passage of the bill. The House refused to second the previous question; Yeas 60, nays 128, and the bill was then referred to the Post Office Committee

By Mr Randall a bill to remove the political disabilities imposed and remaining on any person by virtue of the third section of the 14th article of amendments to the Constitution, and relieving every person therefrom, also providing that all such persons when elected or appointed to any office under the United States shall take the modified oath. He moved the previous question on its passage.

Mr. Blaine expressed the opinion that no opposition would be made to the bill on the Republican side of the House, but he said that some members desired to submit certain observations in regard to it. He therefore asked the gentleman from Pennsylvania, on general proprieties of legislation, to allow a bill of this magnitude to be referred, assuring him that no factious opposition would be made to having a fair vote on it

Mr. Garfield suggested that there was something in the language of the bill that ought to be amended

Mr Randall disclaimed any desire to act with undue haste. The House at the last session had unanimously passed a similar bill on motion of Mr. Maynard of Tennessee. He did not suppose that on account of the political change which the House had undergone this bill would meet any objection from the Republican side, but it was enough for him to know that discussion or delay was desired. He suggested that it be made the special order for Thursday next.

Mr. Blaine suggested that it be postponed till after the holidays.

Mr. Randall—I might want the holidays to be real and sincere, and I want every man to feel at that time that he is relieved from all past political disabilities.

Mr. Blaine—I should dislike very much to do anything that would deprive the gentleman of the most joyous of holidays, but I think he has had very many joyous ones since I have known him, with all these gentlemen under disabilities.

Mr. Randall—I have enjoyed them myself, but some men have been deprived of such enjoyment, and I want the coming holidays to be a Centennial holiday in fact and spirit.

Finally the bill was made a special order for Thursday.

By Mr Vance of North Carolina to repeal the acts of the 2d of March, 1867 and the fourth of February, 1862, prohibiting payment to persons not known to be opposed to the rebellion. He moved the previous question on its passage

After some remarks by Messrs Holman and Vance the bill was referred

A large number of other bills and resolutions were introduced, among them one declaring it the sense of the House that the policy of finance shall be steadily pursued which, without any unnecessary shock to business, will ultimately equalize the purchasing power of the gold and paper dollar. Mr Lawrence of Ohio remarked on introducing the resolution, that it embodied in substance the principle put forth in the last Republican platform of Ohio. He moved its adoption

Mr Holman, of Indiana, moved its reference to the committee on banking and currency, and it was so referred.

Mr Springer, of Illinois offered the following resolution and moved the previous question on its adoption

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House the precedent established by Washington and other Presidents of the United States, retiring from the Presidential office after the second term has become, by universal concurrence a part of our Republican system of Government, and that any departure from that time honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions. The previous question was seconded and the resolution was adopted—yeas, 232, nays, 18

Nays—Bradley, Denison, Hendee, Hoge, Hubbell, Hyman, Lynch, McDougall, Nash, Page, Plaisted, Pratt, Smalls, Wallace of S. C., Wall, Wells of M[illegible], White and Whiting—18

Among other resolutions passed during the afternoon was one by Mr. Holman pledging the House against all railroad and other subsidies in money, lands or in [illegible] Adjourned to Friday

Further Knowledge of the Dynamite Explosion.

BREMEN Dec 15 It is now ascertained that the passenger who owned the case of dynamite which exploded at Bremenhaven is named Thomassen and not Thomas as given heretofore. He confessed that he constructed the chest which exploded and arranged a clock work attachment to cause the explosion after a certain time. He occupied a fortnight in filling the chest and worked in a coach house in one of the most frequented parts of Bremen. The police examined the house alluded to and found some of the packing material but no explosives of any kind

THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS The Democrat's Congressional caucus on Monday passed off without any outbreak, but there is quite evidently a strong undercurrent of feeling threatening every moment to lead to dissensions in the ranks of the majority. The idea of appointing a committee of one from each State, to which all measures relating to the country at large and party policy should be referred, was abandoned, but not before it was shown that the new members and younger men in Congress were greatly excited over what they construed as an effort to put them in leading strings. They claim that they are fresh from the people, and know better than old members what the people want. Nearly all of them, too, have spent the larger part, if not the whole, of their political lives when the party was in a minority, and consequently when being a Democrat meant hard work, almost without hope of reward and under these circumstances they feel that they deserve something better than being placed under a kind of guardianship. The committee of thirteen which was ordered appointed by the chair, consisting of three Senators, seven Representatives and three citizens, is simply a campaign committee for the circulating of electioneering documents. The other committee of eleven are to consider what questions shall be laid before the caucus for action —Cor. Boston Advertiser.

BANK REDEMPTION. A circular will soon be issued from the office of the United States Treasurer, upon the subject of remittances by National banks to the Treasury for redemption, the condition of which in no respect renders them unfit for circulation. Hereafter, the Government will not pay express charges upon packages of notes sent for redemption, when such notes are found to be in good condition, as is the case in numerous instances. The banks will be officially informed of this determination, and advised that hereafter the expense falling upon the Government for expressage upon money sent to the Redemption Bureau, where such money is not in a condition unfit for circulation, will be deducted from the amount received here, and, consequently, will fall upon the senders.

NARROW ESCAPE. Mr Thomas McCann, wife and children narrowly escaped suffocation early yesterday morning, on account of the prevalence of gas in their house on Main street. It seems that the gas pipe on Main street had burst, and the gas leaked into the cellar by means of the sewer and a dog that was lying in the cellar was killed. Mrs McCann woke up about [illegible] and not feeling very bright [illegible] asleep again, but Mr McCann woke up and readily appreciated the difficulty. He immediately opened all the windows and began to arouse his children. When he took his oldest daughter from the bed she fell senseless to the floor. Later consider the difficulty they were all dressed and driven to Mr. Owen McCann's on Summer street. They can congratulate themselves upon their narrow escape

STATE GRANGE. The State Grange held very full meetings yesterday afternoon and evening, and undoubtedly had a very good time. The following is the list of officers elected at the meeting last evening: Master, Nelson Ham, Lewiston, Overseer, C E. Gilman, Houlton, Lecturer, Raymond S Rich, Thorndike; Steward, H H. Clement, Newburg, Assistant Steward, O. A Bowman N Fairfield, Chaplain, C H Davis, Treasurer, C. H Cobb, E. Poland; Secretary, J. M Jackson Lewiston, Gate Keeper, J. C Clements, Winterport, Ceres Mrs H. F Ham, Lewiston; Pomona Mrs C E Gilman, Houlton, Flora, Mrs J T Cornforth, New Portland; Lady Assistant Steward, Mrs J M. Jackson, Lewiston. This meeting did not close till a late hour, when the meeting adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning. It is expected the session will close this evening.

FUN FOR THE LOOKERS-ON. A large number of our citizens witnessed a rare kind of sport yesterday morning. In the vicinity of eleven o'clock it was decided to apply two lengths of hose to the hydrants opposite Patten's drug store and Bowler & Merrill's on the bridge. The pressure was applied and the streams were played through about 50 feet of hose and an inch and a quarter nozzle. The pipes were directed over Exchange block, one of the highest in the city, and the streams reached a height of twenty five feet above the roofs. The pipemen then ducked each other in handsome style, until one party retreated. It was not long before the other pipe became unmanageable, and it had to be given up to its own curious capers. Three young men who attempted to obtain control of it were thrown aside in the most trifling manner. The fun was seen by a great many people who seemed to enjoy it exceedingly, and peal after peal of laughter resounded in the square. Much satisfaction was expressed by many of the gentlemen at the size of the stream thrown under so small a pressure—100 pounds.

OBITUARY. Israel Grant, of Monroe, died last Tuesday evening at his residence at the age of 63. He has been afflicted for a long time past with consumption, and has suffered very much lately. The deceased has always been an excellent man in the community, and was always a good, kind father and husband. For several years he has held many offices of trust, having been selectman, assessor and deputy sheriff in Monroe. He also has held the office of High Sheriff of Waldo county for two terms. Mr. Grant has always been beloved and esteemed by all classes, and those who knew him best loved him most. The family of the deceased did everything in their power to comfort the sick one, but the disease had too firm a hold to enable Mr Grant to recover. The funeral services will occur to-day

A LETTER FROM MAYOR LAUGHTON

In the Whig's editorial relating to the Cemetery matter I have been charged with drawing an order for $3,000, "contrary to the advice of the City Solicitor, and in [illegible] letter of the Hon J. S. Wheelwright. It is stated that I did it in direct opposition to his advice. If all who desire to make that statement have done so, I wish to say through your columns that it is not true. Mr Vose never advised me not to draw an order but he did say to me that there was no objection to doing so

Some two or three months ago, at a meeting of the Board of Aldermen when the order for the payment of an additional $1,000 was up for passage Alderman White remarked that before voting upon it he would prefer to see what sort of paper would be signed by the Bishop. I then for the first time examined the order for the payment of $3,000, which had been passed two years before. I said, at the time, to the Board, and have since then frequently remarked to Alderman Tobin and Rev Father McSweeney that I should never draw an order for the payment of either sum until whatever Bishop Healy might furnish should be submitted to the City Council or until something satisfactory to Mr Vose should be presented. [illegible] evening before the Board of Aldermen were called to order the agreement of Bishop Healy was shown to Alderman White and he said in my presence, in reference to the order for the additional $1,000, that he should not oppose it. Alderman Moor told me immediately after the meeting that his only objection was to the additional $1,000, that he thought $3,000 was enough. I am not aware that Alderman Low ever expressed his opinion as to the $3,000. Alderman Egery was not present but I am informed that he said to [illegible] Wilson, Esq., that he should vote for the payment of the additional $1,000. I did not make the statement as to Mr [illegible] proposed action as unqualifiedly as Mr Wheelwright made his, [illegible] I do not think it proper to do so [illegible]

The other three members voted for the $1,000 additional appropriation, and I [illegible] member of the City Government [illegible] the payment of the $3,000

After the $1,000 order was defeated in the [illegible] Board I said to Mr. Vose "I suppose the [illegible] will be round early in the morning after their $3,000. I presume there is no objection to drawing the order for that," He answered "[illegible]" [illegible]

As Mr. Vose is probably as anxious as I am to avoid a newspaper controversy, I will say for him that he now says I did not [illegible] my question and [illegible] he thought I asked whether there was any thing else to be done in relation to the $3,000 order; but that is a question which I should not naturally have asked him neither would his answer, the words of which I have given above, have been exactly responsive to such an interrogatory.

There was no confusion in the manner in which I read the different orders. I did not as the Whig states, first read the $1000 order and lay it aside and then read the $3000 order and the Bishop's letter and immediately pronounced the former [illegible] before the vote [illegible] business [illegible] The engagement of the Bishop and the [illegible] of the Cemetery Board were [illegible] by the $3000 order which [illegible] they were [illegible] I read the order first introduced [illegible] to which the papers referred [illegible] they were accepted and ordered on file—and then the $3000 order was put upon its passage.

My only [illegible] upon the City Clerk consisted in my saying to him that the Clerk is not permitted to know who of the Aldermen voted for, and who against [illegible] except [illegible] announced from the chair [illegible] the yeas and nays were called, which statement I still believe to be true. He said the custom had always been [illegible] in the State, and [illegible] that [illegible] part of his duty

Mr Wheelwright asked "Is any one so simple minded as to believe that the [illegible] of the Bishop gives [illegible] right [illegible] Our [illegible] gives [illegible] in the soil, and no right which they [illegible] the $3000 were [illegible] to buy a right to deposit bodies in the tomb, and if the right were ruffled the consideration would fail, [illegible] that there is some right [illegible] for damages [illegible] for the refusal of it

I am not much of a politician, and do not know how far political opposition may [illegible] statements, nor do I know, except in a loose and general way what belongs to [illegible] but I am confident that it is not right to charge me with wrong doing, and that somewhat [illegible] having ascertained the facts

L. M. LAUGHTON

ABOUT USAGE

[From the [illegible] Press]

It was only a few weeks since that the Machias Republican suggested that the selection of Secretary of State be left to the Legislature to which the duty has been assigned by the State constitution. It was a good suggestion and we are surprised that our esteemed contemporary has continued to disregard its own advice and not only dictate to the Legislature but practically to insist that it shall yield a part of its constitutional functions. We did not intend again to notice the matter, and our excuse for doing it is that the Republican and Bath Times have put the matter in so remarkable a light that it seems really imperative to notice some of their strange assumptions. In the Republican we find the following

"The question who should succeed Mr. Stacy was submitted rightfully to a Republican Governor and Council and fairly considered and the question now is whether the person selected shall receive the usage of the party. The party cannot afford to do an injustice to gratify anybody. The fact that Mr. Chadbourne and his friends anticipated that he would succeed Mr Stacy is no good reason why the Republican members of the Legislature should deny to Gov Perham honorable treatment. He is Secretary of State without his fault, and by every fair consideration is entitled to receive the usage of his predecessors. Can any one be so blind as not to see that a refusal to elect him will be unfair party usage? If Mr Chadbourne had been appointed, would he not have claimed party usage? When Gov. Perham has received that usage, or declines to receive it, it will be time to consider the claims of Mr Chadbourne and other gentlemen for the succession."

Simply denying the inference of the Republican and the almost positive declaration of the Bath Times that all the members of the Council were consulted with reference to Mr [illegible] successor, previous to the nomination, let us proceed to notice some of the [illegible] assumptions of the writer of the above extract respecting usage. "The question [illegible] whether Gov. Perham shall receive the usage of the party," says the Republican. Well, what is the usage of the party? Simply that when a gentleman has once received the nomination of the Legislature for a State office, he is renominated by acclamation by the next two or three Legislatures. When has Gov Perham been nominated by the Legislature for Secretary of State? When he is, we shall insist on his having that "honorable treatment" to which party usage entitles him. [illegible] the constitution the election of Secretary of State devolves solely upon the Legislature. Carry out this remarkable usage of the Times and Republican and the Legislature can be practically deprived of any participation in naming a State officer. Let it be understood that this is "usage" and by skillful manipulation the Legislature can be as completely debarred from really choosing a State officer as if the power to appoint was vested solely in the Governor. Indeed, under this "usage," the Legislature does not have the ordinary power of rejecting a nomination which the Council or the United States Senate have. Whoever the Governor appoints to fill a vacancy, the Legislature must take or else be guilty of denying him "honorable treatment." We repeat it that an observance of such "usage" would practically annul that provision of the constitution vesting the election of the heads of departments in the Legislature and vest it in the Executive to make such an appointment practically for three or four years, according as party usage has fixed the time by the number of elections heretofore accorded. Will some one tell us what this participation of the Legislature in this "usage" transaction amounts to? Isn't there something of the burlesque about this matter of "usage" as interpreted by the writer of the articles referred to? But carry the matter a little further. Mr. Chadbourne's candidature has been understood for three years, and for more than a year prominently mentioned—we may say conceded. So well understood was it that last summer Democratic papers spoke of Republican plans to crowd him out because he wasn't strong with the so-called leaders. Immediately after the election a large number of members elect wrote to Mr. Chadbourne committing themselves to his support. Imagine these members now writing to Mr. Chadbourne withdrawing their support on the ground that the Executive having been called upon to make an appointment to fill out a year has practically named the Secretary of State for the next three years. It is hardly necessary to add that members are not writing that kind of letters to any extent.

It is not necessary for us to say that we entertain the high personal regard for Gov. Perham and we should have refrained from any further comment on this subject but for the disposition manifested by certain of his friends to ra[illegible] false issues and otherwise treat Mr. Chadbourne in a manner which may well be characterized as unfair.

THE NEW COUNSEL. The N. Y. Evening Post's Washington Special says: "At a late hour this evening District-Attorney Dyer received a telegram from the Attorney General announcing the confirmation of his selection of the Hon James O Broadhead as special counsel in the whiskey prosecution, vice Henderson, and expressing the desire of the President that ex-Gov. Thos. C. Reynolds be also employed. The gentlemen thus engaged by the Government stand as high as any at the St. Louis bar and will doubtless [illegible] in which they are engaged."

These pills open the bowels and correct all bilious derangement without salivation or any of the injurious effects of calomel or other poisons. THE DYING WRECKER.

The parson needn't darken my door, there's time enough for him;

For all [illegible] the sea keeps calling me, I'll not die this bout, my lass.

[illegible] to-night?— [illegible]
Hark how the wild winds wail and howl, and the great waves crash on the shore!
There might be a vessel out in the harp where the reef lies under the foam
But there's never a light in a lattice now, to [illegible] home.

Give us [illegible] of the watch and the golden case I promised to [illegible] a year,

And a brave ship drove on the [illegible] where the white surf veils the jags.

[illegible] I tell thee—we knew naught of life but this then—
We had bairns to keep and bread to get; we were hungry, desperate men
[illegible] dead and drown'd, [illegible] their chests to land,
And [illegible] strove with the angry sea for the [illegible] on the sand.

I thought the [illegible] gone—I hoped I did, yet I never can sleep and dream

Cream color and white are the popular colors this season. [illegible] toilets are in [illegible] for evening wear, and trimmed with bands of velvet in dark shades. The borders of the waist and apron are trimmed with white guipure lace and also with fringe. The evening bonnet is of black velvet, the turned brim lined with white satin, and adorned with a velvet bow with a gold ornament. Around the flat crown is a ribbon trimming shot with gold, the ribbons form in the back two large loops and an end. Golden rings are drawn here and there through the ribbon around the crown.

An elegant ball dress may be of flesh-colored faille. The front of the skirt is trimmed with gauze plaitings, surmounted by a puffing and two headings; above is a similar trimming. The apron is formed of a large gauze puffing with sprays of flowers on either side. The long [illegible] tunic falls over the train, and is trimmed with two deep blonde flounces, surmounted by a puffing with a small heading. The basque waist is cut low in the neck in a point. A gauze fichu is fastened over the breast with long ends falling gracefully down the sides and fastened toward the back under bunches of flowers. Down the back of the tunic fall sprays of flowers, and on the front of the waist and left shoulder are small bunches of the same.

A simple way to make an opera-cloak is as follows: The material may be white, sky blue, pale cream, or black cashmere. The garment may be cut as an ordinary circular cloak, or as a pelisse, with large square sleeves, very much like the dolman. The trimming may be either black, gold, or white and gold galloon. Some of these galloons come in four different widths, and they serve admirably for this purpose when tastefully arranged around the garment. Sometimes there is only one broad band of galloons employed. The use of galloons for opera-cloaks dispenses with all the labor formerly bestowed upon embroidery.

A beautiful mantle for evening wear may be of Spanish lace. The large old-fashioned veils are more useful for this purpose. This mantle falls over the right, and is raised over the left arm. Black lace is sometimes a little trying in the evening, but with some flowers, when worn over a low-necked dress, this objection to its use is removed. Such a mantle is also very beautiful when made of white lace.

DR. C. B. LIGHTHILL—A [illegible] of deep gratitude to you for your interest as well as skillful treatment of our [illegible] compel us to write this statement, sincerely hoping that others in this vicinity, who are similarly afflicted, may profit by your treatment. We think it is about eight years ago since we visited you at Augusta with our little girl, Gertrude, then seven years of age, and afflicted for five years nearly, since she was two years of age. Her eyes were fearfully sore caused by canker-rash and scrofula. After trying all [illegible] medical skill [illegible] and [illegible] by more than one that our child would be blind, we heard of and applied to you. The [illegible] [illegible] after seven [illegible] manifested in [illegible] gave us courage and hope at once. Under your treatment and following your instructions in [illegible] weeks time our little girl's eyes were well and have remained so ever since. Mr. W. H. He has been under Dr. Lighthill's treatment for [illegible] weeks and can now smell as well as he ever could, and has regained his hearing.

Highly Important Letter from Frank O. Whitehouse, Esq., Augusta, Me.

DR. LIGHTHILL—DEAR SIR—Some years since I took a severe cold, which produced a partial [illegible] of [illegible]. Various remedies were applied without effecting any beneficial results, but the difficulty gradually increased until after the lapse of about three years, I had become so hard of hearing that I was unable to distinguish any but very [illegible] [illegible]. I was then placed under your treatment and very soon experienced relief. Since then I have had no return of the difficulty and feel that I am indebted to you for the restoration of my hearing.

Respectfully yours,

Permanent and Radical Cure of Deafness.

The following testimonial as to the skill and ability of Dr. C. B. Lighthill has been voluntarily and without solicitation [illegible] gentleman [illegible] the expression of one who [illegible] [illegible] Dr. Lighthill [illegible] continued entirely deaf [illegible] those who are in like manner afflicted and may [illegible] Dr. Lighthill is now stopping at the Mansion House, where he may be consulted.

AUGUSTA, November [illegible], 1875.

DR. C. B. LIGHTHILL:

About eight years ago I called upon you at the Mansion House, Augusta, for advice and treatment for a son of mine then [illegible] years of age. He had been partially deaf and growing steadily more so for years previous, in fact since [illegible], had very offensive [illegible] from his ears. In obtaining your services I [illegible] what I then thought [illegible] an extravagant price, but as you have entirely cured him, so that for years he [illegible] no trouble whatsoever, either from deafness or running at the ears, I consider the money paid you the best investment I have ever made.

ELISHA COLLINS, [illegible]

From Wm. R. Smith, Esq., Treasurer Augusta Savings Bank.

DR. LIGHTHILL—Dear Sir: Some [illegible] years since my son Geo. R. Smith was placed under your care for treatment for a growing deafness which threatened the gradual and entire loss of hearing. Whenever he was attacked with a slight cold his hearing would become more impaired, and at times was quite alarming. He [illegible] attacks [illegible] the difficulty, and always left him in a worse condition. I take great pleasure in saying that your treatment entirely relieved him. He has since had no return of the difficulty, and I think him entirely cured. I am happy to give this my unsolicited testimony to your skill and success so far as my son is concerned, who I have no doubt but for your treatment would have been entirely deprived of his hearing.

Respectfully yours,
WM. R. SMITH.

Cure of Deafness.

SOUTH NORRIDGEWOCK,
[illegible], Me., December 1, 1871.

DR. LIGHTHILL—Dear Sir: Permit me to express my gratitude to you for the wonderful cure of deafness which you have performed upon my father, who is almost 79 years of age, and has been hard of hearing for nearly 30 years and for the last six years has been so deaf as to render any conversation with him almost impossible. But now after your invaluable services have been rendered to him with such happy results, he can hear with nearly the alertness of a child. Wishing you the happiness and success you so richly merit I sign myself

Yours, R. A. DAVIS.

Cure of Diseased Eyes—Statement of Col. Alden, Augusta, Me.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Dr. C. B. Lighthill a few years since treated one of my sons for sore eyes, and it gives me pleasure to recommend him to all needing his services, as my son was very much benefitted by him.

D. ALDEN.

Augusta, October 26th, 1875.

Letter from Hon. Ira Fish.

PATTEN, Me.

For several years I have been afflicted with the Catarrh. I have tried many prescriptions for it without receiving any benefit therefrom. I have taken your medicine about two months and it has cured me. I would recommend those who are afflicted with this disorder to apply to you. I am confident, if they will strictly follow your directions, that a cure will be effected, however inveterate the case may be.

IRA FISH.

Dr. C. B. LIGHTHILL takes pleasure in stating that the above expressions of gratitude for successful service rendered, are but a few of the many of a like tenor in his possession, coming from parties equally reliable who have been cured of Deafness, Blindness or Catarrh, and those who are afflicted are invited to call.

Consultation is Free.
